Council Meet Oldman River Reg. Planning Commission

Representatives of councils from Crows Nest Pass towns met with the Oldman River Regional Planning Commission in Bellevue on September 21st and expressed favor at the Commission preparing a sub-regional plan including an urban renewal study for the entire area provided that the federal and provincial governments provide financial aid.

The resolution presented by Mayor John Holyk of Coleman, also recommended that the resolution be submitted to the Oldman River Regional Planning Commission for incorporation in a formal application for a study to be submitted to the Provincial Committee for Urban Renewal and Public Housing.

Another motion was also made that a committee be formed comprising one councilman from each town and one representative of each Citizens' Committee appointed by each municipal council in the Crows Nest Pass to examine the procedures and problems involved in the preparation of a sub-regional plan and urban renewal study and to keep the respective councils informed of its progress.

J. E. Hartley, director of the Oldman River Regional Planning Commission, advised that much local planning has now been completed by the Commission and steps can now be taken to swing into a regional plan.

Mr. Hartley stated that the Commission was very interested in the Crows Nest Pass area as it is one of the most vital parts of the region. The Pass, he said, is an important area to the economy of Southern Alberta and is one of the most important recreational areas in Southern Alberta.

Lorne Smith, Associate Planner of the Commission, described the Crows Nest Pass, starting from Cowley and proceeding west to the British Columbia boundary, a distance of some 20 miles, as being one of the most unique areas in Alberta. Being one of the two "designated areas" in Alberta, Mr. Smith stated that even this feature and the great potential of forest and mineral wealth in the area has so far not provided enough incentive for a great development of industry in the area.

Mr. Smith suggested that there was a need for an economic study of the area to show what we have here now and what we could have in the future.

He suggested that an urban renewal program would improve living conditions in the area, which might make the district more attractive to interested industry. A general clean-up would make a great difference, he said.

He advised that a land availability program would also have to be launched and this would require special engineering facilities due to the topography of the land. The land would be for expansion of both industry and residential sites. Mr. Smith also suggested that social problems of the area must be understood and the areas get together.

In support of Mr. Smith's last statement, Sven Erickson of Lethbridge, stated that Russell Patrick, Minister of Lands and Mines, had stated that if the Pass area showed any mutual desire of working together on a project the government would aid financially.

Phillips Open House Well Attended

Well over 500 residents of the Crows Nest Pass attended the open house at Phillips Cables plant on September 24th.

Mr. R. Waddington, vice-president of Phillips Cables Ltd., of Brockville, was present, and during the events presented a cheque to the local plant baseball team. He also presented a number of proficiency certificates to a number of senior employees.

DRIVE WITH CARE

Each year, hundreds of children are killed and injured when struck by cars while walking or riding bicycles, according to All Canada Insurance Federation.

The hazards are particularly high at this time of year when children are returning to school. The Federation, which represents most of Canada's automobile insurance companies, recommends these precautions for drivers:

- 1-Slow down in school and park areas ... whether the law requires it or not.
- 2-Be particularly cautious when driving on residential streets.
- 3-Allow as much clearance as possible - and slow down when necessary - when passing parked cars.
- 4-Give children a break and the right of way when they are crossing the street.
- 5-Anticipate trouble. Children are often careless - and the good driver has a moral obligation to avoid an accident even if the child is at fault.

Think twice-once for yourself, and once for the other fellow -

The locusts of the road are also called shorthorn grasshoppers.

Social Credit Meetings Held in Coleman

Joe Hanrahan, Social Credit nominee for the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Constituency by-election, at a public meeting in the Elks hall in Coleman September 19th, pledged full devotion to the problems of the Pass if elected on October 6th.

Speaking on the merits of Social Credit, Mr. Hanrahan stated that Alberta was one of the few provinces in the Dominion that was operating on a successfully financial basis.

He commented on the Hon. Mr. Halmrast's recent announcement that a Senior Citizens' Home would be built in the Crows Nest Pass in the very near future and credited this to the consistent efforts of the late William Kovach. A survey for the needs for such a home in the Pass had been made quite some time ago.

Mr. Hanrahan commented on the work being done on Alberta highways under the direction of Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways.

He stated that Mr. Taylor has advised that no survey as yet had been made for highway 3 west of Bellevue. Advice from Mr. Taylor also indicated that when the survey is made and if for some reason the road was surveyed to bypass the area, a public meeting would be called and hearings would be arranged.

George Buzunis, mayor of Fort Macleod, and Raymond L. Speaker, M.L.A. of the Little Bow constituency, were present and spoke in support of Mr. Hanrahan.

The Hon. Ray Reiersen, Minister of Labor and Telephones, speaking at a Sacred rally that attracted over 50 East Coleman residents, Wednesday evening, September 28 painted Alberta's economic and industrial condition and future as being a near Utopia.

Mr. Reiersen described Alberta's fantastic growth under the Social Credit regime during the past 31 years and predicted an even greater expansion and future in the next few years.

He said that predictions had in-dedicated Alberta's population would reach one and a half million by 1980, but this figure had been reached by 1965. This mass growth in population he credited to the industrial development of the province under Social Credit government and the attractiveness of wages, opportunity, educational facilities to be found in Alberta.

Speaking on the latter, he said that the student population at the University of Alberta alone had jumped from 8,000 to 12,500 in the last year.

Mr. Reiersen spoke on the excellent labor relations in Alberta, and the planned expansion of the province's industries which through careful guidance, has brought Alberta a surplus of over $400 million.

Outlining some of the natural resources in Alberta, he prophesied that great expansion would take place in the west in iron ore development from which steel industry and manufacture would develop; pulp and paper and saw-mills would develop from the great forest reserves in Alberta; gas and sulphur extraction plants would expand and build to supply the great demand for sulphur and gas; coal fields would be developed for power and by-products and resulting other industry would develop.

Canadians, he concluded, are the most fortunate people in the world for nowhere else are resources so plentiful.

Also speaking in support of Joe Hanrahan, Sacred nominee in the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Pass by-election October 6th was Raymond Speaker, M.L.A. of the Little Bow constituency.

Present at the meeting was Orvis Kennedy, president of the Social Credit League.

The Homemaker

(Miss Patricia L. Peters, District Home Economist, Box 40, Claresholm, Alberta. Phone 235-3242, Cardston phone 653-3462)

Hello ladies:

This is the time of year when everyone seems to be swinging back into routine after the informality of summer living.

Part of the winter routine for many of you is participation in various community organizations, often to the extent that you feel as if your time is not your own. However, most of these groups serve a really worthwhile purpose, whether social or public service, and you feel you cannot give them up.

Your children may belong to various groups also, and with school work as well, it seems as if even the children in this busy world are over-organized.

However, there is one organization which I think is worth considering, if it does not already function in your community. The 4-H Club movement is a multi-purpose organization — educational, social and recreational.

It serves as a broadening influence on a young person's outlook, character and abilities.

Through 4-H he learns to interact with others in a social situation; to conduct a meeting, to express himself in public through the practice in public speaking, which is an important part of the program, and to practice self-discipline in the completion of a project which demands a certain amount of organized and consistent effort.

The objectives of the 4-H Movement in Canada are to help young people

Acquire the knowledge, skills and attitudes necessary for a satisfying personal, family and community life.

Develop leadership talents and abilities.

Promote the study and practice of good citizenship.

Develop a knowledge of and appreciation for agriculture and home economics and their relationship to our national economy.

Recognize the need for continuing education and explore career opportunities.

Broaden communications and relations with other countries.

Develop a sound philosophy of life based on lasting and satisfying values.

The rewards of 4-H are not all intangible. For top 4-H members there are a large number of really wonderful awards. Trips to various parts of Canada, the U.S., and even foreign countries, are won each year by 4-H members who excel in their work, and a number of provincial events provide entertainment and opportunity for adventure.

If you have a group of young people in your area who are interested in 4-H work, and parents who are interested in supporting, and/or or leading a club, get in touch with your District Agriculturist or myself — will be happy to give more information.

Happy Homemaking (and Harvesting).

So long for now.

Warning To Work Camps

(By A. E. Bridges, Alberta Fire Commissioner)

From time to time tragedies occur at temporary living quarters where workmen are employed on field projects. A typical accident occurred recently in the Buck Lake area. Three men were in a cabin. One of the three men arose early in the morning and started a fire in the stove. He tried to light it with paper but by reason of having green wood, did not succeed.

He went outside, intending to bring diesel fuel to assist the fire. There were two cans adjacent to one another and by mistake he picked up the can containing high test gasoline used for the gasoline lantern. He poured this high test gas into the stove. Immediately there was a flash fire causing him to drop the can, which spilled further fuel onto the floor. He shouted to rouse the other two men. He and one of them escaped but the third man was overcome by smoke and burned to death.

It is most dangerous to use flammable liquids to quicken any fire. The use of high test gas is almost certain to result in an explosion and severe burns to the user and the result can involve others who are not able to escape in the case of such a rapid fire in a closed room.

The best possible chance to eliminate fire deaths and fire injuries is to constantly review the dangerous conditions that bring about fire casualties. If people know the facts, they will be in a position to avoid the danger. Of course, the need is for frequent reminders so that fire is given the proper respect and so that fire cannot become a killer with the help of human errors.

Already in 1966 there have been 16 deaths by fire — seven men, five women and four children.

Sixty-seven persons were injured by fire from January to August 1, 1966. Here are the prevalent and repeated causes and the dangerous errors that bring about injuries and fire deaths.

- 1—Careless handling and misuse of gasoline.
- 2—People fall asleep while smoking cigarettes.
- 3—Unsafe practice and accident with propane stoves.
- 4—Open fires and flames igniting clothing.
- 5—Children left unattended and playing with matches.

We are approaching the time of year for public observance of Fire Prevention Week. The Fire Commissioner is requesting every fire chief in the province to conduct special activities during Fire Prevention Week and to report a summary of these activities for entry in the annual Fire Prevention Week contest.

Statistics prove that there is a definite recession in the number of fires during the time when the public is alerted and the public participation is invited to seek out and eliminate fire hazards.

Insurance Firms

Blamed For Delay

(Courtesy Lethbridge Herald)

PINCHER CREEK — Opposition to the national medicare scheme "by insurance companies who make millions of dollars on private medical insurance plans," has delayed its implementation, New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas charged Friday night.

"And Premier Manning has been spokesman for the insurance companies," he told a banquet gathering in Pincher Creek and an evening rally audience in Blairmore.

Mr. Douglas was speaking in the two centres on behalf of Garth Turcott, New Democratic candidate in the Pincher Creek-Crows Nest by-election October 6.

"Health should not have a price tag on it," he told his audiences. "You should be as entitled to health as you are entitled to air."

Mr. Douglas attacked big business and an extensive propaganda machine for "trying to brainwash people into believing the high cost of living is due to high labor costs."

Actually, he charged, the increase in the cost of living has been due to the "greedy profiteering of corporations who get together and fix the prices."

The founder of Social Credit in Alberta, William Aberhart, campaigned with a platform of state medicine and now the party which campaigned for it is leading the fight against medicare, he said.

Last year, he said, wages went up 5.2 per cent, while profits went up 13.5 per cent. Wages have lagged behind productivity and the cost of living.

Big business and the government are using wages as an excuse, he declared, for compulsory arbitration and to freeze wages.

Canada hasn't had government for the people. "We've had government for big business. Canada has been run for the privilege of an elite group," he said.

He attacked the Liberal and Social Credit parties for voting against a raise in Old Age Pensions to $100 a month. "The Conservatives were for it but wanted to take the extra $25 out of the Canada Pension fund."

As of the end of 1966 the old age pension fund will have a surplus of $455 million, he said. "The government can afford to make it retroactive to the first of the year and still have a surplus of $155 million at the end of the year" he declared.

Liberals Hold Blairmore Meeting

Mr. Chairman, Mr. Maccagno, Mr. Berry, Ladies and Gentlemen: It is my pleasure and privilege to greet you as your Liberal candidate in the forthcoming by-election in the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest Constituency.

Ours is a constituency that is divided in many ways. Topographically, it varies from the level prairies to the rugged mountains. Industrially it varies from coal mining, lumbering, to farming and ranching.

Racially, we vary from Eastern European to Anglo-Saxon and American. Yes, and we are even divided as far as the constituency name is concerned. The hyphenated name, Pincher Creek - Crows Nest surely does nothing to unite us together. But united we must be. I believe that I know enough about the problems of the Crows Nest Pass as well as those of Pincher Creek to solidify and unite the whole constituency.

We are all Albertans and to us this is a vital part of Alberta. We are in the extreme south-west portion of the province and also very remote from Edmonton and the Social Credit dynasty.

It is my contention that we have been neglected and forgotten as far as the provincial government is concerned.

We should have a chronic hospital in the Crows Nest Pass area. Many of you people from this area are obliged to have your friends and relatives far removed in Fort Macleod, when they become ill. They are totally out of their life-long environment, far from their relatives and friends. Certainly, this situation is not conducive to quick recovery.

I realize that the provincial government prefers to operate Senior Citizens' lodges large enough to become economical and self-sustaining but I contend that we must not lose sight of the humanitarian aspect of the case and there is a definite need for a Senior Citizens' lodge in the Crows Nest Pass area.

I understand that the present Crows Nest Pass Hospital is in bad need of remodelling and renovating to update and modernize it. I believe a possible solution to the whole question may be to use the present hospital for a combined chronic hospital and Senior Citizens' lodge, and a new hospital be built to care for the needs of the people in the Pass area.

Much more emphasis should be placed on industrial development in the Crows Nest Pass. As a matter of fact our provincial government cannot accept any credit for the development that we have to date.

Certainly it is because of grants from the federal Liberal government that we have the Philips Wire and Cable plant in the area. With our great potential of natural resources that abound here we should place ourselves in a position to really sell the Pass area to anyone interested in industrial development.

In our present society we are moving toward more leisure time and I believe there is a great need for increased recreational facilities. The accent must be on youth and their well being since they are the future citizens and on them the future prosperity of the area depends.

Coupled with the recreational needs of the area is the great potential we have in tourist trade. If properly looked after and developed this should be a source of many dollars of income for the Crows Nest Pass.

In the provincial election of 1963 over 2,000 people failed to vote in this constituency. This, to me, is a very nonchalant and uninterested attitude to assume. With the present excitement and election fever that exists in the total area I am quite sure there will be a much larger turnout to the polls this election. It is the responsibility of every citizen to get out and vote and I solicit your support on my behalf.

Leader of the Opposition in the provincial legislature, Mike Maccagno, blamed the provincial government for the "great deal of dissatisfaction" presently felt in all parts of the province with the problems of education, especially those caused by over centralization.

Speaking to a group of 30 people in Blairmore, Mr. Maccagno said "they always seem to have plenty of money for bricks and mortar, but little for research and human rights."

Mr. Maccagno, who is the MLA for Lac La Biche is spending a few days in the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest area in support of Mr. Benton Murphy, Liberal candidate in the October 6 by-election.

Noting that there was a strong feeling among the people that Pincher Creek - Crows Nest had been forgotten by the provincial government he said, "I know how it feels to be forgotten. We were forgotten in Lac La Biche eleven years ago. So forgotten you could not even find the name of our town on a provincial government tourist map — and we have been represented by a Social Credit member for many years. So I ran for the Liberal party and was elected."

"As a member of the Opposition I have had, and have taken every opportunity to get recognition and action on the needs of our area."

Mr. Maccagno continued, "Everyone in the government today knows where Lac La Biche is, including those who make the tourist maps."

"If you want to make sure that you are recognized and remembered, then elect Benton Murphy. He will be the help of the Liberal team already in the legislature in bringing your needs to the attention of the government."

Mr. Murphy told the meeting that the area was not getting the attention it needed. He cited as examples the lack of a chronic hospital or a Senior Citizens' lodge in the Pass, the need for recreational facilities and for far more promotion of tourist trade.

He said the provincial government can take no credit for any development in the Pass. The only government which has done anything was the Federal Liberal government in Ottawa, whose special Designated Area Program was responsible for the Philips Cable plant establishing here. The Philips plant at Coleman employs a 150 people in the area.

Provincial Leader Adrian Berry told the meeting the most important issue in this by-election was the need to strengthen the Opposition. "Democracy and Freedom," he said, "are dependent upon a strong opposition." Since no other political party has any members in the provincial legislature, Mr. Berry said Mr. Murphy would be able to do much more for the people of Pincher Creek - Crows Nest because he would have the help of Mr. Maccagno and the other Liberal members in the legislature.

Home Safety . . . Heating Systems

Even before man learned that he could start a fire by rubbing two sticks together he has been vitally concerned with finding new and — presumably — better ways of keeping warm.

Long before anyone thought of calling heating and ventilation a science, the ancient Romans were using radiant heating—to warm their baths.

The pre-revolutionary French were the first to use hot-water heating—to help hatch baby chickens.

And in the United States, Ben Franklin—long associated in people's minds with kites and lightning—also had a few hot ideas about keeping warm.

Heating—centralized or not—always has been a mixed blessing. Even to the present day, we haven't completely escaped the same heating danger which plagued our cavemen ancestors—carbon monoxide.

Whenever any fuel is burned, carbon monoxide is usually one of the products. Because you can't see it, taste it or smell it, it has earned the name "The Silent Killer". If it escapes into the rooms of your home, the air you breathe can kill you or lead to permanent brain damage.

With cold weather just around the corner, the Alberta Safety Council advises residents of the province that it's time to start thinking about putting their heating systems in proper condition to guard against "The Silent Killer".

The council lists the following recommendations to help protect your family from this potential hazard.

Have your heating systems—furnace, space heater, water heater, fireplace and incinerator checked annually to make sure they are operating efficiently and that vents, pipes, flues and chimneys are tight. This also will help prevent fires.

Heating devices, especially central furnaces, require a lot of air for proper operation. Make certain that your heating plant is not starved for air. Check with your heating man or fuel supplier to be sure.

Heating devices designed to be vented should not be used until they have been properly vented to the outside.

Use only heating devices that bear the label of the Canadian Standards Association (CSA).

Follow the manufacturers' recommendations concerning the installation and use of these heating devices.

If you have a fireplace don't close the damper until you are certain that the fire is out. If smoke enters the room, it may mean that your furnace is causing a reverse flow. Opening a window will help prevent this.

It's a real friend who likes you in spite of all he knows about you.

Judith Coover Is Bride Of Brian Horesji

White carnations and candles formed the setting at St. Paul's United Church on Saturday, September 3, 1966, at 6:00 o'clock p.m. when Judith Mae Coover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Coover of Coleman, became the bride of Brian Louis Horesji, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Horesji, of Edmonton, formerly of Frank.

Rev. Peter Walker officiated at the ceremony with final vows by Rev. Harold Coward of Blairmore. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a gown of white lace over peau de soie lily-point sleeves, jacket and train. A head-piece of pearls held the shoulder length bouffant veil. The bride carried a white Bible topped with pink baby roses and gardenias.

The bridal attendants, Miss Sandra Bachura and Miss Maureen McDonald were identically gowned in floor-length Empire waist gowns of light blue peau de soie, featuring a lace trim and the matron of honor, Mrs. Joan Thomas, sister of the bride, wore a similar gown of darker blue, each carrying a nosegay of blue-tipped white carnations.

Charming little Allison McDonald and Teresa Thomas, niece of the bride, the flower-girls, wearing full-length frocks similar to the bridal attendants' dresses, carried baskets of blue-tipped white carnations. Mr. Jan Horesji, brother of the groom, was best man and ushers were Gene Bachura and Brian Zak. Robert Jones, the groom's brother-in-law, acted as groomsman.

Mrs. Audrey Bonne, accompanied by Mr. Kenneth Murdoch, sang "At Dawning", when the wedding party entered the church and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Following a family banquet in the Church hall, a wedding reception was held in the Elks hall. Mr. George Jenkins was master of ceremonies and toastmaster.

Toasts were given by the bride's uncle, the best man and groomsman.

For the honeymoon trip the bride donned a light blue gabardine suit with matching accessories. Following the honeymoon trip to points in British Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Horesji will reside in Edmonton.

Former Coleman Man Wed in Edmonton

Ritchie United Church, Edmonton, was the setting for a double-ring ceremony when Rev. A. E. Morrison united in marriage Gloria Jean Nickolaychuk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nickolaychuk and Alan Daniel Gate, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gate of Coleman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown, with a detachable train with lace appliques down the front of the skirt. She wore a flower which held a three-tiered chapel-length veil. Her only jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls and earrings, a gift from the groom, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis. Bridal attendants were the Misses Victoria Bobowski, Sylvia Vitaychuk and Susan Gammon. They wore turquoise floor-length sheath gowns of peau de soie. Their headpieces were a turquoise flower and they carried bouquets of white carnations united turquoise.

Best men were Andy Grubisch, Joe Wavcan and Gordon Obar. Ushers were Peter Kroli and Jas. Atkinson.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table during the reception held at the Smoky Lake National Hall, Smoky Lake, Alberta.

Master of ceremonies was Andy Grubisch, the first best man. Mr. George Nickolaychuk, brother of the bride, gave the toast to the bride.

Out of town guests were from Vancouver, New York, Coleman, Calgary and Fort Macleod.

Judy Coover Honored At Shower

A shower of interest was held in the Elks hall in Coleman, on August 29th when Miss Judy Coover was recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Both whist and bingo were the entertainment of the evening.

The bride-elect, her mother, the groom's mother and grandmother, were presented with lovely gladioli and rosebud corsages. Judy was taken to her chair by her friend Maureen McDonald. The chair was a canopy with a bride on top—all done in blue and white.

After a very delicious lunch Judy very ably thanked her guests for the gifts received. A special thanks was given to the hostesses who made the shower possible. Judy especially thanked those who attended and made the evening so memorable. Those who gave but could not attend were also thanked.

Lions Name Bingo Winners

The $100 cash jackpot at the last Lions night bingo was split between Mrs. Alice Cornish of Nial and Mrs. Jim Atkinson of Coleman.

Other winners were:

$12 Farina Langille (twice), John Splak, Stafie Yagos and Peter Youschuk.

$10. Sofie Lepacek, Tom Cunningham, Frances Cote, Steve Liska, Sr. and Polly Snowden.

$1. Anne Dorusuk, Mrs. Garner, Mrs. Pisony and Peter Youschuk.

The 20 pound turkeys were won by Angelo Toppano, Edna Campbell, Pete Montalbetti, Bill Lizza and Mary Tiffin.

The next bingo night will be held October 12 when another list of excellent prizes will be offered besides the $100 to go blackout.

Called "The Church A-Go-Go", the panel will be moderated by Dr. Robert Hadfield of Calgary and will have as one of its members, the controversial Rev. Ben Smillie of Saskatoon; Don Robertson and Leo Chukonde. There will also be a report on the Operation Crossroads Africa project.
